BALLING'S GRANT AND HIS GENERALS, Now in the Gallery of the WASHINGTON SAFE DEPOSIT COMPANY, will be held for private sale till October next, when, is not sooner disposed of, it will be entered at the pro jected great Art sale in New York.

The price is placed at $40,000, $5,500 less than the painting of the "Communicants" sold for at auction in New York last winter.

New York last winter.

The great interest taken in this picture by soldier and their relatives, very few of whom have not hais some relative under the command of or in battle with some of the officers there portrayed four great cities of the Union would yield in one year enough by its exhibition to reimburse the cost of its purchase.

The canvas is 10 by 15 feet, and contains the likeness of Grant and 27 of his Generals, each represented in the precise clothing, bats and accourrements as worn in the field in 1864. Only 11 of the 27 are now living. Their original likenesses can never be grouped living. Their original likenesses can never be grouped together again on any canvas.

POWDERLY DENOUNCES THE BOY-We have been milling for sixteen years; when we commenced most mills used one set of men for eighteen hours per day. We commenced and have continued the twelve-hour rule, allowing the day men one hour for dinner. We paid liberal wages, and some of our brother millers complained to us of the twelve hours and our voluntary increase of wages. We have yet some of our men with us who were with us when yet some or our men with us who were with us when we commenced. No complaint has ever been made to us about wages or hours. Yet on the 25th of August, 1884, we received a letter from the Knights of Labor requesting us to use all new barrels in packing our flours. This request afterwards became a demand, and we refusing to surrender our liberty were boycotted. Remember, this demand was not made by any bersons in our employ but by outside retries any persons in our employ, but by outside parties. First, hand-bills making outrageous statements were circulated, of which we took no notice; finding this did not ruin us, committees of the Knights of Labor visited our customers, and with the threat of boycott frightened some, whom we lost. Finding this perse-cution becoming serious, we published various articles in THE STAR in our defense. But in none did we attack the K. of L. or even use their name. This persecutive the control of the cution has continued up to the present time. Our wagons have been followed, and various methods have been used to find out who bought our goods. Ice-wagon drivers and others have threatened that they would strike if their employers bought our feed. they would strike if their employers bought our feed.

Even the bakers'-wagon drivers have threatened that if the stores bought any of our flours their employes would not sell them their bread. We have borne with this persecution long enough. We now request an grovers and others to whom threats are hereafter made to be particular to get and report to us their names so that we can prosecute in the Police and Criminal Courts all persons attempting to do us an injury. By giving attention to this our friends will conjury. By giving attention to this our friends will con-ier on us a favor. We hold that every American citizen, native or naturalized, should have the liberty

"To sit under his vine and under his fig tree, and none shall make them afraid."

Canada's Seizure of American Vessels. SECRETARY BAYARD TO SENATOR FRYE. In answer to a letter from Senator Frye, regarding the action of Canadian officials towards American fishing vessels, Secretary Bayard has written that "the late reprehensible action of the Canadian officials in relation to American fishing vessels has occurred in remote localities without telegraph facilities or postal communication, and consequently there has been delay, regretable, but unavoidable, in receiving consular reports. But your (the Senator's) assumption 'that this department is giving the matter such consideration as its importance demands,' will, I believe, be fully sustained when the proper time arrives for publication of its action. I trust I am properly conscious of my duty as an official charged with the execution of delicate and important public functions, and that the interests and honor o my country and the rights of its citizens will not be found to have suffered at my hands."

Mines Idle from Lack of Labor. ARIOUS CAUSES ASSIGNED FOR THE CONDI-TION OF AFFAIRS ON THE MONONGAHELA. PITTSBURG, PA., May 24.-There is such a scarcity of miners reported on the Mononga-hela river that less than one-third of the mines of herself and the Rev. Mr. Downs. between McKeesport and Brownsville are in full operation. The operators give several reacons for this condition of affairs. Some attribute it to the fact that during last year's tribute it to the fact that during last year's strike large numbers of miners obtained employment at other places and did not return to the mines after the strike, while others put it down to the long dry spell. The miners say that the difference of 1 cent in wages in favor of the railroad mines has caused a large migration from the river to the railroad. Another reason given by them is that miners in Eng-land, Scotland and Germany have been so well posted by their returning friends on the present state of the American labor market that the stream of immigration to this country has been practically stopped. Many miners from those countries who had been on the river for several years have returned home digusted at the low rates of wages now ruling.
